Issue no. 84 Autumn 2020

What a happy cover on this issue!

This shot of a native frog was taken by Lorraine Wilson, a magazine subscriber from Raymond Terrace NSW, who entered the picture in our 2019 Photo Competition and won a Highly Commended award for her clever shot. (The frog, no doubt, sees a great future for itself as a photographic model!)

In this issue you'll also find:

- Mary Moody's lifetime love affair with her gardens.
- Chris's garden and her mosaic work are her great escapes.
- Judy Vanrenen's love of gardens led her into a world of travel.
- Fiona Ogilvie tells us of the amazing plant hunters.
- Acacia cognata - in its many forms - is Kim's favourite plant.
- An albuca with a twist is the latest 'it' plant.
- Sonja Cameron searches the world for new plants.
- Jenny shares her passion for saving seeds.
- Peta writes about an unusual sunflower.
- Was Captain Bligh as bad as history paints him?
- Gardens bring 'Releaf' in all ways.

Then there are Seasonal Tips, Diary Dates, Club News and a report from our 2019 convention on Norfolk Island.

And this year GCA is celebrating its 70th birthday!
